

REPUBLIC OF SERBIA
PRESIDENT

Belgrade, 15 March 2019

Your Excellency,

Please accept my sincere condolences for the ruthless attacks at mosques in Christchurch, when many innocent people, who were searching for peace through prayer, were killed.

This tragedy sends a strong message to the world that we must be united before the challenges and cruelty of terrorism, because in its intention to rule by fear, terrorism knows no borders and has no respect for human values. It is our responsibility to strongly protect common values and right to life in a free world. Serbia will always take the side of law and justice, advocating equality of all nations and religions.

I kindly ask you to convey my deep sympathy to the families and friends of the victims, as well as my best wishes for a quick recovery to those who were injured.

Please accept your Excellency the assurances of my highest consideration.

Aleksandar Vučić
