Section 4 - Terms and Conditions

The Sender (you) agrees:

- We (the Bank) may use overseas banks to process this transaction.
- Money sent overseas is usually available for payment to the beneficiary within two business days (Australian time) of our accepting your instructions.
- We are not liable for:
 - any loss suffered as a result of us acting on these instructions in good faith except where our negligence causes the loss; or
 - any delays in payment to the beneficiary by overseas banks.
- Overseas banks may impose fees for processing payment to the beneficiary. Normally, these fees will be deducted by those banks from the payment. If however, the overseas banks charge us instead, you must reimburse us for such fees. You can ask us for the amount of these fees in advance. However the amount of these fees is not always known and may be significant.
- Overseas banks may convert the currency sent into other currencies. In some cases, they may first convert Australian dollars to an intermediate currency (such as U.S. dollars or Euros) prior to conversion to the desired ending currency. This could happen even where the desired ending currency is Australian dollars.
- You must pay us our fees, and any costs we incur to make enquiries to overseas banks regarding payment as set out in our brochure Standard fees and Charges for International and Foreign Currency Services.
- We may decline to process this transaction if we believe in good faith that processing the transaction may breach laws, e.g. relating to anti-money laundering.
- You consent to the disclosure of the information in this Application to others (including overseas) as necessary to complete the transfer.
- If funds are to be returned, they will be done so at the prevailing daily rates on the day of return.
- If any provision of this agreement is found to be illegal, void or unenforceable for unfairness or any other reason (for example, if a court or other tribunal or authority declares it so), the remaining provisions of this agreement will continue to apply to the extent possible as if the void or unenforceable provision never existed.
